

XM is a great service that has brought a new and exciting service to us. Music, news and traffic from coast to coast is a benefit for me on a daily drive and when traveling state to state. Governing such a great consumer product would be a drastic step in the wrong direction. Look at TV, they offer digital music and many other features via cable line and satellite, but there is no public pressure to have cable companies stop playing music. Let XM grow and continue to amaze us as subscribers!
